Sharing Stories from the Kitchen

A Cookbook Writing Retreat
March 13-17, 2011

This event will be a real treat—literally!

Chef and innkeeper Pecco Beaufaÿs and writing instructor Deb McKew present this unique cookbook writing workshop. Learn how to translate favorite meals into accurate recipes, how to create a menu centered around a theme, how to develop new recipes, and how to tell the story behind the dish.

March is maple sugaring time in New Hampshire, and the Highland Lake Inn is located just minutes from a sugar shack, where we will savor the flavor of pure maple syrup, and then incorporate this local ingredient into some of our recipes.

Guests don't have to be chefs or writers to participate.

This retreat is designed for anyone who loves cooking, eating,
or writing about food.

*“This is my invariable advice to people:
Learn how to cook—try new recipes, learn from your mistakes, be fearless, and above all have fun!”* —Julia Child

Stories from the Kitchen

Every family has its favorite recipes and every recipe has a story behind it. Join us for some fun in the kitchen, notebooks in hand. The workshop sessions will include:

- Cooking sessions with a focus on accurate recipe writing
- Writing sessions to capture the story of each recipe and family cooking traditions
- Lessons on how to develop a menu; how to create a themed menu; how to pair wines with your recipes
- Field trip to a maple sugar shack

Writing Workshop Presenter

Deb McKew, founder of Words in Play Writing Retreats and Travel Programs, lives by the tenet that writing is fun. Journalist and teacher, she has led many workshops for writers of all ages, delighting in the creativity that she coaxes from her students. She hosts writing programs throughout the country and abroad. For more information, visit: www.wordsinplay.net.

Chef and Innkeeper

Pecco Beaufaj's, a professionally trained chef, will be your guide in the kitchen, teaching you the secrets to accurate recipe writing. He and his wife, Gail, will also be your hosts at the Inn. Honoring Pecco's European upbringing, they serve their guests with Old World charm and hospitality. To learn more, visit www.highlandlakeinn.com.
