

And the Plot Thickens...

Are your characters stuck on the page?

Is there a dam in your narrative flow?

What exactly is plot and how can you make sure yours thickens in a way that makes your readers want to keep reading?

Join us for a 3-hour intensive workshop that focuses on the interconnectedness between character, emotion, conflict, setting, and thematic significance—in a word, plot.

The workshop will help you pinpoint any problem areas and provide tools you can use to untangle them. Whether you are at the beginning stages of a story or in the throes of revision, expect to push your plot, and your project, forward.

About the Instructor:

The founder of Words in Play Writing Workshops, instructor Deb McKew has been teaching the writing process for more than a decade, inspiring her students to dig deep and discover the power of creativity. For more information, visit www.wordsinplay.net

Saturday, November 16

9:00 AM - 12:00 PM

FEE: $125

The Writer's Center

58 North Main Street

White River Junction, VT

www.thewriterscenterwrj.com

Characters Welcome!

To Register:

Yes! Sign me up for your 3-hour workshop And the Plot Thickens on Saturday, Nov. 16

Please Complete

Name: _____

Email address: _____

Phone number: _____

Enclosed is my $50 deposit* to hold my place.

Make Checks payable to Deb McKew and mail this registration to:

Deb McKew

7 Pearl Street, #10

Scarborough, ME 04074

Questions? Contact: debmckew023@gmail.com

*Deposits are nonrefundable, but under extenuating circumstances, they may be redeemed toward future Words in Play workshops.