Love Letters*

A Weekend Writing Retreat

February 11-13, 2011

Gather with us for a very special
Valentine's weekend.
This retreat is designed for anyone who wishes to live, love, and write passionately.

When letters were the primary mode of communication between two people (not necessarily lovers), they were composed with care, to be read and reread, to be provocative, to be cherished.

What better time to rekindle the age-old tradition of writing love letters than in a romantic setting over Valentine's weekend?

Create something unique to convey your heartfelt message.

Letters from the Heart

Join us for a romantic interlude. You'll leave with a beautiful, finished piece that will inspire you to spread the love. The writing sessions will focus on:

- Creative writing exercises to generate ideas for your letters
- Crafting a heartfelt message
- Designing a layout for your letter
- Polishing and printing

Workshop Presenter

Deb McKew, founder of Words in Play Writing Retreats and Travel Programs, lives by the tenet that writing is fun. Journalist and teacher, she has led many workshops for writers of all ages, delighting in the creativity that she coaxes from her students. She hosts writing programs throughout the country and abroad. For more information, visit: www.wordsinplay.net.

Innkeepers

Pecco and Gail Beaufays will be your hosts during your stay at the Inn. Honoring Pecco's European upbringing, they serve their guests with Old World charm and hospitality. You will feel welcome from the moment you walk in the door. To learn more, visit www.highlandlakeinn.com.

*“What a lot we lost when we stopped writing letters.
You can't reread a phone call.”*
